 761 Le Musee Francais Napoleon, or collection of 355 superb Line Engravings, from the Chefs d'œuvre of Painting and Sculpture that formed the Gallery of the Louvre during the reign of Napoleon, with Historical Introductions and Critical and Explanatory Remarks, also the History and Essay on the various Schools of Painting. 4 v. imp. fol. $110

This magnificent collection of Engravings owes its origin to the Emperor Napoleon, and was undertaken when the resources of the whole of Europe were under his command, and when the Gallery of the Louvre was the acknowledged emporium of the Fine Arts, of the civilized world. The design of combining in one splendid series the unexampled number of 355 line engravings, from the finest paintings and statues in the world, the magnitude of the undertaking may be estimated from the fact, that the execution of the engravings alone cost seventy-five thousand pounds sterling, or $360,000, published at 7680 francs.

- 762 Musee Royale Napoleon (le) or a collection of 167 Line Engravings, from the Gallery of the Louvre. 2 v. imp. fol.

The Musee Royale was intended as a supplement to the Musee Francais, and contains some of the chefs-d'œuvre of Painting and Sculpture, among which are the "La Vierge au Donataire," the "Holy Family," "Jane d'Arragon," and "Pope Leo X., all by Raphael, as well as many first rate pictures by other masters, published at 3840 francs, $50

The Musee Royale was published in forty numbers, forming two volumes, each number containing four engravings, accompanied with critical notes from the able pens of MM. Guizot, Visconti and Clarac. The original proprietors of this undertaking expended upon this series of Drawings no less a sum than 60,000 francs, and the engravers were paid for their portion of their labors, 200,000 francs, the largest sum ever expended in the execution of any publication connected with art. Amongst the engravers are the celebrated names Raphael Morgan, Richomme, Foster, Classens, Muller, Audoin, Schirvonetti, Gandolfi, Massard, Girardet, Chatillon, Bartolozzi, &c., &c. The Musee Francais and Royale are undoubtedly the finest collection of engravings ever published. This is unquestionably the grandest production of modern times, and exhibits a series of engravings by the most distinguished artists, of such a collection of paintings as can never again be assembled together. The coppers of which are destroyed, and no copies remain for sale in Europe.

Kidd, Latimer, Laud, Macclesfield, Moore, Oxford, William Penn, Brynn, Raleigh, Russell, Shaftsbury, Stafford, Vane, Ogilvie, &c., for treason, forcible marriage, gunpowder plot, murder, parricide, perjury, rape, adultery, &c., &c. 11 v. fol. 1766.
